THIRTY-THIRD YEAR NO. 45.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1910.

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR.

FIRE DOES GREAT DAMAGE.

Fire broke out in the rear of C. M. Ridgway's drugstore about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and for a few hours surrounding property was in great danger.

Just how the fire originated there is no answer though the general belief is that Holloway's prowlers on the hunt of boxes may have had a lighted match in the dark narrow passage way between the Ridgway and Robert Bird buildings. The fire was discovered by employees at Waddle's livery barn and it is their claim that the whole interior of the ware room was afire when the discovery was made.

By the time the fire department was in action the flames had reached the galvanized cornice on the two story building belonging to Robert Bird. A window on the second floor directly over the blaze soon gave way and the flames shot into Bird building. By this time the fire was under the slate roof and for a time it looked as if the entire building was doomed.

Quick work on the part of the department in fighting the fire from the rooms of the second floor is all that saved the building. This of course meant a heavy loss on building and stock by water damage.

As to Mr. Ridgway's stock there is much damage although the goods in the front room were only damaged by smoke and heat. The rear of the building was burned to a shell. His residence adjoining was more or less damaged by fire and water. Mr. Ridgway places his loss at about $2,000 fully covered by insurance.

It will be impossible to tell the extent of the loss to Mr. Bird's stock and building until the adjusters arrive. The damage to his enormous stock by smoke and water is not easily estimated but it is conservatively estimated at $5,000 or $6,000 fully insured.

Mr. Bird already has carpenters at work repairing the building so that the store can be opened as soon as the loss is adjusted. It was fortunate that the night was still or the department would have been unable to handle the situation.

HON. M. R. DENVER.

HON. M. R. DENVER, Candidate for Re-election to Congress.

Hon. Matthew R. Denver is the present representative of the Sixth District in the National House of Representatives and truly he has represented his people.

Mr. Denver believes that a public office is a public trust and has looked after the business interests of the district with the same acumen as he would his private affairs. Backed by a forcible character, judicious temperament and honest desire to accomplish what is right, Mr. Denver has an enviable record.

In former years many different interests of the district were handled as department matters, where considerable red-tape was necessary, thus requiring many months before any result was known.

Mr. Denver applied his business principles with a certain degree of tact and in little or no time his constituents soon learned that the Congressman was accomplishing what others had failed to do in years previous.

The manner in which Mr. Denver handled the Xenia government building project drew not only the attention of local people but those from outside districts. The fact that one who differed politically with the powers was able to secure what Mr. Denver has for the district has made a high-water mark for future congressmen, regardless of political affiliation.

The long drawn-out method of wearing out a veteran before his pension claim was recognized has been disposed of by the Denver method of giving all these matters personal consideration. Pension attorneys report that Congressman Denver has secured claims in as low as four weeks when this many years has been the rule. Thus we find why the veterans are so staunch for Mr. Denver's return. Previous to the Congressman's first term he declared that this government owed the soldiers of the Civil War a debt that never could be paid and that he would stand by them to the end.

Mr. Denver deserves re-election in that he has swerved neither to the right or to the left but has attended to the duties assigned him in a business manly way without regard to party, friend or foe. He has honorably gained the name of a faithful representative of the people.

A COMMUNICATION.

My dear Editor:—

I have been greatly pleased to observe the position which has been taken by The Western Star in the congressional matter. Your impression of last Thursday meets with my hearty approval; and you are to be congratulated for your courage.

While I am not given to bolting my party's nominees, yet I do it when impelled by the higher sense of duty. Perhaps I am not as free in the doing of this as I should be, for there is no question but what the ever increasing independence of party on the part of voters has had very wholesome effect upon party leaders and administrative affairs. But Mr. Taylor has demonstrated his unfitness to represent this congressional district in innumerable ways, and this is the opinion which his own county must have entertained of him two years ago, since it not only withheld its normal Republican majority of 2500 from him, but it gave Denver a neat little plurality; and Greene county now seems morally certain of showing Mr. Taylor less favor this time than they did two years ago. He has been tried and adjudged by the people of his own county; and I propose to accept its judgment.

Mr. Taylor has not disclosed any qualities that would commend him to the favorable consideration of broad and fair-minded men, who are desirous of having our public offices held by men of sturdy character and sterling worth. On the contrary, he has shown in innumerable ways a lack of those qualities that tend to inspire confidence and command respect.

Mr. Denver has proven himself a capable and efficient servant; and the sense of fairness is sufficient for the admission that he has made an enviable record. By his constant attention to his constituents, his quick responsiveness to their appeals, and his untiring energy, he has proven himself to be a good man in the right place.

A SUBSCRIBER.

THE SILENT SPHINX.

Will He Ever Speak?

NEWS ITEM.—Mr. Taylor's campaign managers have not allowed him to make a speech during his campaign and he remains as silent as an Egyptian Sphinx.

Why not let Mr. Taylor talk? A speech made by him in Dayton not a great time ago was full of zeal, if not common sense, in which he advocated the suppression of the undesirable immigrants, especially the "Irish and a hook-nose Jew"—Osborn Local, Oct. 27.

What County Owes Denver?

The first appropriation ever secured for the Sixth District was secured by Congressman Denver. The large number of pension bills secured for veterans is but the result of his constant efforts for his constituents.

Now comes the passage of the bill as introduced by Mr. Denver that gives Xenia a government building, $65,000 being allowed for this purpose. The sight has already been selected and it certainly does not behoove Xenia's to "trade horses in mid-stream" for the re-election of Mr. Denver will be but having a representative who will see that their hopes are realized.

Mr. Denver occupies the same position as that of the architect for the new building and no one would think of dismissing the architect before the building is erected.

Xenians should be greatly thankful for Mr. Denver's efforts and certainly mark this gratitude by giving him a large majority next Tuesday. The county fully appreciates the services of a safe and sane business man in such a capacity in that by having Mr. Denver returned, the banking, manufacturing, farming, wool growing and stock producing industries will be carefully guarded.

WHERE DOES TAYLOR STAND?

The following is taken from the Western Star published in Lebanon, Warren county, one of the oldest county seat Republican papers in the state, which bolts the ticket for the first time in refusing to support Jesse Taylor for Congress.

"There seems to be but little in the social or political career of Jesse Taylor to commend him to the favorable consideration of the voters, by whose suffrage he hopes to gain a seat in Congress. Certainly he has not favorably distinguished himself in the opinion of men who have observed, since his appearance in the Congressional politics of the Sixth District. In fact it does not seem that he has ever gained any particular distinction that embodied commendable virtue.

Two years ago the "drys" found him "wet" and the "wets" found him "dry"; and all repudiated him at the polls. And from the activity that we observe, the forces will repudiate him again. The salvation of the Republican party in the Sixth District, and in all Congressional districts, is best subserved, as well as the welfare of the country by persistently eliminating such chronic office-seekers as Mr. Taylor has proven himself to be.

"A few years ago, in the municipal election of Columbus, which was a hotly contested one, the result showed the election of a Republican candidate here and a Democratic candidate there. It is a remarkable result, and formed the basis of the discourse of one of Columbus' most eminent divines on the following Sunday evening; and the point of the discourse was that the result of the election showed a healthy condition of the political mind of the people of that city since it disclosed that they were voting for men.

"If the better influences of Greene County are opposed to Mr. Taylor there is a cause for it; and if from any cause whatever, he is unfit to represent Greene County, we can not see by any process of reasoning that he is fit to represent us.

"While Mr. Denver is a Democrat, yet he has proven himself an honest and conscientious servant of all the people, and his identification with the social, moral and material interests of the people of this district has probably tended to make him a typical representative and one of which our district can justly be proud. In him we find more of the true man and good citizen and less of the noisy, quarrelsome and clamorous politician.

Denver's Work Is Appreciated.

We desire to refer to a statement of a former veteran Squire Almon Bradford, just before he left here to locate in Topeka, Kansas that as much as he loved Cedarville and her people, his one great regret in leaving at that time was that he would not get to cast a vote for Congressman Denver's re-election. As was known to all, Mr. Bradford was a staunch Republican, but through his experience as a pension attorney, realized what a benefit it was to the veterans to have a Congressman that was standing like a rock for their interests. Mr. Bradford could not express himself too strongly in desiring the return of Mr. Denver.

Another instance we learn about is a letter from Congressman Sherwood, author of the "dollar a day bill", to Mr. J. H. Milburn. The latter had written a congratulatory letter to the Toledo Congressman on his bill and the reply was that had the House, Republican and Democratic members, been as faithful to the bill as Congressman Denver, the veterans would now be enjoying its benefits.

Such testimonials from veterans known to every voter in this vicinity is but a high tribute to Congressman Denver, and we believe that on next Tuesday, not only the veterans but the citizens in general, will show their appreciation of a good man's work by giving him a greater plurality than two years ago.

Poultry Show In Xenia.

The Xenia Fancier's Club will hold a poultry show in Xenia, December 6 to 10. There is a promise of many exhibitors from different places and those interested in poultry raising should keep the date in mind.

Congressman M. R. Denver has donated $50 in gold, $10 for the best male bird and $10 for the best female bird. Another donation of $5 comes from Jesse Taylor for the best ten birds. The club donates $25, $5 each for the best display of five varieties for the largest entry.

The Xenia merchants have given several hundred dollars that will be used as premiums.

Taylor Does Not Answer.

Seven days have passed since the HERALD exposed the hand of Jesse Taylor in trying to influence a temperance mayor of Jamestown in "soaking" Grassy Berry and other Xenia violators and then pleading that Charles M. Ridgway, a local druggist, should be let down "easy," when charged with the illegal sale of liquor.

In our last issue we stated in the plainest terms possible the position that Taylor had taken on the "wet" and "dry" issues so far as it could be used to advance himself politically. That Mr. Taylor was ineffectual in his work of advocating the temperance cause is exemplified by a former article.

The one issue of this congressional campaign is whether or not the individual character of the candidates is to be considered. This and this only is the issue and any other argument to advance Mr. Taylor's cause is for the mere purpose of shielding his past record.

That every voter should know the individual merits of the respective candidates is not denied and it is for this reason that the HERALD brought Mr. Taylor's record to light, knowing that he has been a professional office seeker, having endeavored to get himself nominated for state representative, state senator and congressman on two different occasions. His overwhelming defeat two years ago was but the proof of the lack of confidence the public has in his ability to successfully represent the interests of this district.

In our last issue we stated that Mr. Taylor had one week to answer to the charge of double-dealing between the "wets" and "drys" and that he urged certain Xenia violators to be given the limit while C. M. Ridgway was to be let down "easy," the temperance mayor in turn to be rewarded for his act by running for county recorder. Mr. Taylor has not yet answered the charge and we infer that he recognized his position and admits his guilt by remaining silent.

In the face of these undisputed facts how then can the electorate of the Sixth District, whether "wet" or "dry" as individuals, consistently and conscientiously mark the ballot next Tuesday for Jesse Taylor for Congress?

Miss Verna Bird gave a shower Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Belle Brewer whose marriage to Mr. Elder B. Corry is announced for November 10.

Mrs. Martha Morton has returned home after a visit of several weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Turner of New Texas, Pa.

Mr. J. R. Orr and wife entertained a large number of relatives last Saturday in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton of Monmouth, Ill.

Rev. W. A. Condon returned last week from Clarion, Iowa, where he went to pack his household goods and have them shipped to his new charge at Trenton, O.

Rev. John Wilson, wife and daughter of Virginia, Ill., are expected here this week to be present at the Brewer-Corry marriage next Thursday.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Belle Brewer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brewer to Mr. Elder B. Corry, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Corry on Thursday evening, November 10 at six-thirty.

The college boys gave a Halloween party in Afford Memorial last Friday evening for the girls. There was a husking and Miss Bertha Stenmett won a box of candy as first prize. A fine spread was enjoyed by all present.

Miss Ida Dean underwent an operation in Xenia last Friday which is expected to greatly improve her health. Miss Dean has not been well for some months but reports this week indicate that she will completely recover.

The business houses about town will during the coming week close at seven o'clock each evening owing to the evangelistic services. Wednesday and Saturday evenings will be accepted as during the past week.

Mr. James E. A. Parker of Dayton and Miss Ida M. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride at six o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. J. Taylor in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. Mr. Parker is employed at the National Cash Register Company and with his bride will reside in the Gem City.

Halloween was celebrated in the usual style Monday evening, all the boxes, wagons, and lance articles about town being placed in the public square. There was no property damaged to any extent but the blockading of the square was a serious thing and a handicap to the fire department in getting about the Bird and Ridgway buildings during the fire.

Mr. J. G. McGeeball spent Monday day in London.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Anderson entertained a number of relatives at dinner Thursday.

Mrs. Robert Bird entertained Wednesday at dinner in honor of Mrs. White of Ganet, Kansas. Those present were Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mrs. W. J. Stevenson and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Yellow Springs, and Mrs. J. H. Andrew.

Mr. M. W. Collins has sold his farm of 67 acres on the Nash road to Samuel Haines of near Wilmington, the price being about the highest that has been paid for land in this section. Possession to be given January 1st and Mr. Collins will probably return to Trenton, O.

The Senior L. T. L. held its regular semi-monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, October 26. Rev. Taylor was present and gave a very interesting talk on "Law Enforcement from the text, 'If it goes well with the city it goes well with thee.' We expect to have a number of such talks during the winter.

The first snow of the season fell last Friday afternoon and again Saturday giving the last of October the appearance of real winter. On Thursday snow fell again which gives rise to the opinion that we have passed the heated period for good. Quite a contrast with last year at this time.

Three tenant houses on the John Laughead farm west of town was burned last Monday night. The family of Marion Hamilton, who had moved there about a week ago had gone from the home for the evening and on their return found everything in ashes. There was no insurance on contents but Mr. Laughead was insured for $500.

Thirty-five pupils and their instructors from the O. S. U. Agricultural school arrived here last Friday and were driven to the stock farms of D. Bradfute & Son and R. C. Watt, where they were given an insight into the handling of stock. Saturday the crowd visited the Williamson, Foust, Cherry and other stock farms near Xenia.

The two special venires for jury-men in the trial of Charles Justice charged with murder in the first degree for the slaying of John F. Shoup last September has been exhausted. It only required three hours to examine the forty-six names and Judge Kiple has called for another venire. The majority of those examined expressed themselves as having an opinion on the case.

At a meeting of the Village Board of Education last Friday evening Dr. E. C. Oglesbee offered his resignation, which was duly accepted. His excuse was that the duties of his profession kept him from devoting the time necessary to look after the school affairs. Mr. J. H. Sullenberger was elected to fill the unexpired term. Mr. Sullenberger was formerly a member of the board and is acquainted with the work.

Murder In First Degree.

The jury in the murder trial of Charles Justice for the slaying of John F. Shoup last September while the former was attempting to steal chickens, was out just twenty-three minutes and returned a verdict of first degree murder against the accused.

The following is the jury selected to try Charles Justice on the charge of first degree murder for the slaying of John Shoup last September.

The jury which was secured on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock after 100 veniremen had been exhausted is composed of the following: William Priest, farmer; Brant U. Bell, farmer, Beaver Creek township; George L. White, merchant, Xenia; Heber Douthett, Xenia; George Syphers, farmer, Miami; John A. McClain, farmer, Xenia township; Harvey Humston, Xenia; Richard Bull, farmer, Xenia township; Walter Laurens, farmer, Xenia township; John B. Smith, farmer, Xenia township; Thomas Jacobs, farmer, Miami township.

Special Meetings Draw Attention.

The interest being manifested in the evangelistic meetings under the direction Dr. W. W. Orr of Charlotte, N. C., is encouraging to those who arranged for the services.

By solicitation almost every business house in town of every description is closed nightly with the exception of Wednesday and Saturday nights. This affords the business men and their clerks an opportunity of being present and at the same time affords no outside attractions from the meeting. The afternoon meetings have been equally as well as those at night.

Dr. Orr is not only strong physically but mentally, his sermons being delivered in an earnest sympathetic manner. His power of oratory soon envelops the audience and his influence is felt by every one.

The singing is under the direction of Prof. F. R. Stover and a large choir has been assembled for the occasion.

The meetings for the balance of this week are being held in the U. P. church while a later announcement may be made for next week.

Bird's Store Opens Saturday.

Mr. Robert Bird announces that his store will be open Saturday morning for business as usual. The lower floor has been placed in good order and all damaged goods moved up stairs where it will have to pass the inspection of the adjusters.

Mr. Bird wishes to extend his thanks to the many who so kindly assisted in saving his property during the fire.

It's All in the Making

Whether clothes fit or not. That is where we excel. Whether we succeed or not, you can judge by the fact that the best dressed men in Greene County almost without exception patronize us.

Poorly made clothes always look cheap, while those made by us have comfort, style and elegance and give perfect satisfaction, both in wear and price.

True Paint Economy Buy Good Paint

It costs less for the labor of putting on good paint than cheap paint, because it takes fewer gallons of good paint to cover a given surface, consequently it takes less time.

Good paint will cover more surface, because in good paint the body is composed of elastic substances—Pure White Lead, Pure Zinc—which, when properly mixed with pure Linseed Oil, flows out well under the brush. In cheap paint the body is composed of brittle substances—whiting, etc.—thinned out with benzoin and like materials, consequently it dries as soon as it touches the surface. The real economy of Good Paint is that it wears for years, is always bright and glossy, while cheap paint will check and peel off in a few months.

D & B HIGH GRADE LIQUID PAINT

Is the most economical paint you can buy, because, being made of a purest materials—in the most scientific manner. It costs less to put it on. It takes fewer gallons. It wears longer and gives absolute satisfaction. We guarantee it to do so.

A Non-Partisan Bench.

(Springfield Daily News)

This, the second judicial circuit, comprising the counties of Clark, Campaign, Darke, Fayette, Franklin, Greene, Madison, Miami, Montgomery, Preble and Shelby was established by an act of the legislature in 1883. The court is composed of three judges who sit together and compose the circuit court. The term of service is six years, and one judge is elected every two years.

From the formation of the court, all three of the judges have been Republicans. There had not been a Democratic representative on the bench during those twenty-seven years until two weeks ago, when Governor Harmon appointed Mr. E. L. Farneding, of Dayton. It had been one unbroken chain of Republican judges.

The term of Judge Theodore Sullivan would have expired February 8, 1911. He had served two terms and was not a candidate for a third term. But another Republican had of course been nominated to take his place. Then Judge Sullivan died. The law provides that when there is a vacancy upon the bench, thirty days prior to an election, a judge shall be appointed by the governor to serve until his successor is elected and qualified.

Prior to the death of Judge Sullivan, E. L. Farneding had been nominated unanimously by the Democrats to succeed him. When Judge Sullivan died, Governor Harmon, appointed Mr. Farneding to fill the vacancy caused by the judge's death. But he did not do so until he had carefully investigated the character and capabilities of Mr. Farneding. In making the appointment Governor Harmon told why he took such special pleasure in naming him. He understood the character of Mr. Farneding, was aware of the high position he held at the Dayton bar, where the firm with which he is connected is recognized as one of the ablest and most progressive in the state. Besides, Mr. Farneding himself was recommended by the ablest members of the bar, and his appointment was a happy one all around.

Under the law, unless a candidate is elected to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Sullivan, Judge Farneding would serve until February 8, when the judge regularly elected for the next term will be sworn in and serve six years. But the Republican party—were unwilling that a Democrat should serve so long as thirty days upon the bench if he could prevent it; they desired that a candidate should be voted for at the coming election and who, if elected should serve until February 8. Many prominent Republicans objected to the course, but the bosses were obdurate. So they insisted a candidate be named. The republican candidate already named for the six year term is now judge of the Common Pleas court of Franklin county. He declined to allow his name to be certified, for the short term, because in the event of his election he would have had to resign his present position, which in turn would have given the power of appointing his successor to Governor Harmon. These republican bosses do not want to take any chances of a Democrat serving upon any judicial bench. So they named a candidate for the short term and permitted the common pleas judge of Franklin to continue in office.

Judge Farneding has not certified his name to appear on the ballot for the short term. He has stated that he is a candidate for the regular term. He is now sitting upon the bench. His position makes it clear that if the people of this circuit desire him and thereby have a minority representation on the bench, they can elect him for the six year term; otherwise he is ready to step down and out when Judge Sullivan's successor is elected.

Now, as for a non-partisan judiciary. Every organization of attorneys in this country has gone on record as declaring that the courts of this country should be non-partisan. Several states have already provided by law that the courts shall not be of only one party. In those states where the insurgent and progressive Republicans have spoken they have declared unequivocally for the non-partisan courts. Steps are being taken everywhere to secure for the people the non-partisan judiciary.

Many presidents have appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States, men of opposite politics, thus making the complexion of the court non-partisan. The people of the Second Judicial circuit now have an opportunity of creating by their votes a court that is non-partisan, or rather one that will have a minority representation. If Judge Farneding, a Democrat, is elected, this court will consist of two Republicans and one Democrat. The question therefore to be determined is, shall monopoly of our circuit bench by one party continue, or shall the spirit of fair play prevail? It is up to the voters to decide. (adv)

Both Candidates Here Wednesday.

Congressman M. B. Denver, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. D. K. Homestead, made a tour of the county Wednesday and reached this place about four o'clock. Mr. Denver spent an hour or so calling on friends and visiting the different business places.

The Congressman is looking the picture of health and by his genial and social manner left a deep impression. Mr. Denver is greatly encouraged by his prospects in this county and reports that there is little question but that when the vote is counted next Tuesday Greene county will be in the Denver column along with the other counties of the district.

Jesse Taylor's visit here was not heralded to any extent for it was, few of his friends took advantage of meeting the "would-be-had-been" congressman. The candidate only spent a few minutes in town and was careful to call just where he was welcome. Most of his time was spent with the editor of the "Gang's Weekly Apology", where some sort of an excuse may have been framed up in answer to the charge that Taylor had used his influence in having "Grassy" Berry "soaked" while O. M. Ridgway was to be "let down easy", both being charged with the sale of liquor illegally.

Mr. Taylor arrived here in one of these pesky automobiles, just the kind that he charges Mr. Denver with using on the roads, thus wearing out the farmer's plow. With Mr. Denver here we are safe in saying that the automobile could not take Mr. Taylor away any too quick.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.

In many respects the office of Prosecuting Attorney is the most important office in the county. A good prosecuting attorney can save tax payers hundreds if not thousands of dollars, where an inefficient man in the position might lose the county thousands by his inability to meet a situation or by giving faulty legal opinions.

It is a place that calls for ripe legal experience; for the skill and knowledge that come with actual practice in the courts.

Greene county is, in a way, a big stock company, composed of or representing nearly 7000 homes. This company every year spends thousands of dollars. This expenditure calls now and then for opinions that the legal experience should give. In addition the prosecuting attorney in one term of office, must try cases the costs of which, necessarily run up into hundreds of dollars. A weak prosecutor means cases lost and money lost to the tax-payers. A strong prosecutor means cases won and money saved for the tax-payers.

It is gratifying that M. J. Hartley has been nominated for this office. Mr. Hartley did not seek the nomination. It came to him through the demands of citizens generally. No lawyer in Greene county would make a better prosecuting attorney; for he has the legal learning and the sound judgment the place demands. Back of his unsought candidacy are 30 years of practice at the bar.

Mr. Hartley, than whom no one in the county is better or more favorably known, has held many positions of trust and honor, all of which unmistakably mark him as the right man at this time for prosecuting attorney. It will be a great gain for Greene county people to get a man of his calibre for the office.

HIGH SCHOOL ITEMS.

Prof. F. R. Stover gave us a very interesting lecture Wednesday morning after which he and his wife favored us with a duck on their corner.

The following are the answers to the questions in last week's issue:

1. Is it correct to spell "all right" "alright"?
No.

2. What day of the week was July 4, 1776?
Thursday.

The following are the test questions verbatim which were submitted to the civics class this week. Try them:

When where and by whom was the Constitution made?
2. How was it adopted? When did it go into effect?

State the substance of the three main compromises made at the Constitutional Convention.

4. How many general departments of our government? Why have these as they are?

5. State several differences between the Constitution and the Articles of Confederation?

6. Of what does Congress consist? What plan does each represent?

7. Which Congress is now in session? How many members in each house?

8. State the qualifications of a Representative? Of a Senator?

9. How is a Representative chosen?

10. Classify taxes. Define each class.
